FIRST FOOTBALL GAME SINCE 1910

Sensational Forward Pass Wins Game
—Team Shows Strength—Play Gettysburg College Tomorrow

For the first time in six years a George Washington University football team played last Saturday, winning from St. John's College at Annapolis by 6 to 0. The single score in the see-saw game was made during the last two minutes of play when Wilson caught Pepper's forward pass in mid-field raced down the field 45 yards, protected by Niederhauser, and scored a touchdown. The team leaves tonight for Gettysburg, where it will play Gettysburg College, a strong team, tomorrow. Next Saturday will be the day of the first home game with Western Maryland College, probably on Georgetown field.

In the first quarter, St. John's was held on downs on the 5-yard line, the nearest to scoring that the cadets came. In the second and third quarters the ball changed hands often because of fumbles and stayed in the middle of the field. In the last quarter, Coach Sullivan put a fresh G. W. U. team on the field making many substitutions. Then the touchdown was made.

Altho the play was at times ragged, the Buff and Blue showed that it will be reckoned with in coming contests. Pepper put up a good game and ran the team well, while Giblin broke thru the line frequently. Capt. Hillis played well until knocked out. He will play tomorrow, however. Clark, St. John's best ground-gainer, was injured in an open field running tackle, and examination later showed two ribs broken.

About twenty G. W. U. students took the trip with the team, and with the team watched Navy beat Georgetown in the afternoon.

TWO BIG PLAYS IS DRAMATIC PROGRAM

University Activities to Benefit
by Performances

Two plays at local theaters are being planned by the G. W. U. Players for the coming year. Both plays will be presented for the benefit of some University activity, the Players receiving no profits.

The first play will be given in December and the other in May. Tryouts for its cast were held Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and many new actors reported. Other tryouts will be held later.

Ernest Elkin, who has been made business manager for this year, has offered to let any organization share in the proceeds of the plays, according to how they support the plays. Profits may be given to athletics, the new Law School building fund, the University Hospital or for decorating the A. & S. Hall.

Henry Jason Breslau, who directed "Disraeli" last year, will again coach the Players, and Sol S. Gluck, president, will aid him.

It is possible that "Disraeli" will be repeated shortly after the December play, and negotiations are under way for securing rights on original plays of the Washington Square Players in New York.

ENGINEERS ELECT OFFICERS

The elections of the Engineering Society held Wednesday night resulted as follows:

William S. James, president; O. H. Miller, C. E. vice-president; J. H. Wilson, M. E. vice-president; Z. A. Bates, E. E. vice-president; George M. Brown, secretary; J. L. Lenovits, treasurer; D. V. Stroup, member executive committee.

TRUSTEES APPOINT STUDENT ASSISTANTS

University to Advance Money
for Athletics

Appointments of professors and student assistants were made by the Board of Trustees Wednesday afternoon.

Several recommendations of the faculty committee on student activities were acted upon favorably. They were:

"That PGad B. Morehouse, LL. B., '16, be appointed chairman of the University Debating Council and Coach of the debating teams.

"That the University advance to the Director of Athletics as required an amount not exceeding three quarters of the 45 per cent of the student activities tax pledged which is to be devoted to athletics, the University having as security the tax pledges and being reimbursed therefrom as these are collected and also from the receipts of the games.

"That the apportionment of the student tax moneys be as follows: To be retained by the Treasurer to cover the cost of medical benefits, 25 per cent; to be placed at the disposal of the business manager of The Hatchet, 7 per cent, the business manager of The Cherry Tree, 13 per cent, the secretary-treasurer of the University Student Council, 4 per cent, the Director of Athletics, 45 per cent. All moneys remaining unexpended for medical benefits, by the University Student Council and by the Director of Athletics, to be returned to the Treasurer of the University at the close of the year."

Another recommendation of the faculty which was approved provided that the funds of the activities tax shall be transferred by the Treasurer to the various student activities on warrant drawn by the chairman of the faculty committee and not on the warrants of the graduate manager of athletics, the chairman of the subcommittee on publications, and the University Physician, as provided in the resolutions of May 22, 1916.

The appointments made were:

Professor of Radio-Electricity, Louis Cohen; Professor of Radiography and Oral Prophylaxis, Robert L. Eller; Associate Professor of Orthodontia, W. C. Killinger; Associate Professor of Oral Surgery, Eugene R. Stone; Clerk in the Dental Infirmary, Mary Harsh; Lecturer on Literature for Children, Marietta Stockard; Teacher in the Demonstration School, Mary E. Wheatley; Assistants in History, William Lawrence Wanlass, Louis Eugene McArthur; Student Assistants in History, Elmer Louis Kayser, Louis Anthony Tashof; Student Assistants in Physics, Watson Davis, Homer William Ball; Student Assistant in Architecture, Beverly Humphreys Harris; Student Assistants in Chemistry, Paul Henry Brattain, Florence Marian Ford, Harold N. Giese, Bonifant Hamilton, Everett Albert Hellmuth, Theresa Karger, Floyd E. Lewis, Treadway B. Monroe, L. F. William Pahl, George Washington

TAX SIGNERS TOO FEW; ACTIVITIES MENACED

Student Council Plans Campaign to Save Student Interests

Only about 450 students out of the 1562 students registered in the University have signed for the $8 activities tax this year, and as a result of the low number, the Student Council will begin today to conduct a vigorous campaign for tax signers.

Because of this lack of student support for the tax, all student activities including football are seriously menaced.

Unless 350 more signers are obtained in a few weeks, plans for athletics and other activities under the tax may have to be curtailed. Dean Fraser, chairman of the faculty committee, has made this clear. There must be 800 signers to carry athletics thru successfully this year.

FIGURES ON TAX SIGNERS

According to an actual count of signed tax pledges, the number of signers and percentages are:

	Tax	Regis-
	signers	tration	Pct.
Medical	67	105	63
Law	150	299	50
Engineering	61	202	33
Veterinary	20	60	33
Graduate Studies	22	71	31
Columbian	96	522	18
Dental	17	116	17
Teachers	16	153	10
Pharmacy (tax not offered yet)	—	34	—
Total	449	1562	29

About 50 to 75 students signed for the tax last year and have not signed this year. These will be held to their pledges.

The above count is compiled from the Treasurer's office lists, and data furnished by the offices of deans.

FACULTY COMMITTEE ORGANIZES FOR YEAR

Subcommittee Chairmen Named—Advertising Rules Passed—Tax Discussed.

The faculty committee on student activities organized for the year Monday night and passed upon matters of interest to student activities of the University. The tax situation was discussed.

William D. Halsey was made chairman of the subcommittee on athletics, Prof. DeWitt Croissant was made chairman of the subcommittee on publications, Dean William C. Ruediger will head the committee on social activities and Dean Everett Fraser, chairman of the committee, will head the subcommittee on finances. Professor Croissant was made temporary secretary.

To prevent the illegal use of the University's name in securing advertising, the following rule was adopted: "No publication shall be issued or advertising solicited in the name of the University without the authority of the chairman of the subcommittee on publications."

The athletic eligibility rules providing that a regular student must carry six hours of work and a spe-

To cope with the serious situation the Student Council has planned a vigorous personal campaign for signers. A councilman in each department will be given blank tax pledges, and, with volunteers, will personally tackle all students for signatures to the dollar-a-month proposition, which provides medical benefits, admission to athletic events, and the student publications.

Volunteers to aid in the campaign are wanted, and should see the leaders of the campaign in the different departments: Miss Theodosia Seibold, Columbian College; William S. James, Engineering; Elmer Kayser, Teachers College; Bertram Groesbeck, Medical School; Q. M. Cannon, Dental School; Rhessa M. Norris, Law School; James B. Patterson, Veterinary College; Perry M. Johnson, Pharmacy College.

The results of soliciting of tax subscribers thru the offices of the deans have proved disappointing. In the rush of registration, many students were overlooked, and not offered the cards, while the activities tax was not explained. Lack of student canvassing is responsible for the present menacing situation of student activities.

The tax is a good business proposition. For $8 a year or a dollar a month, each subscriber will receive: 1. Medical treatment, including three weeks in the University Hospital free, and attention by the University Physician. 2. Admission to all athletic contests of the University. 3. Subscription to The University Hatchet and The Cherry Tree.

Each student can help save student activities at this crisis by doing two things: Signing the tax and getting other students to sign.

Not only all students, but all members of the faculty should sign for the tax. President Stockton, the entire Law School faculty, and other professors have already signed, and all should sign. Alumni are urged to take advantage of the tax proposition.

BULLETIN (Thursday)

A vigorous campaign for signers has already begun in the Department of Arts and Sciences. About 20 students subscribed to the tax when approached by students working under Miss Theodosia Seibold.

This is the last issue of The Hatchet that will be given general distribution. The next and subsequent issues will be mailed to signers of the tax and those subscribing individually. Sign for the tax at once, or if you do not, fill out The Hatchet subscription blank on page 2.

Student Support Or Failure

Student activities are now menaced
as never before. When our first football team in six years has made a good start, and other activities have awakened with new vigor, the student body is laying down on its job of restoring student activities at the University. There are not enough tax subscribers.

Only about 450 students have signed for the activities tax, the dollar
a month combination offer for medical treatment, athletics and publications. And there should be a thousand.

The issue regarding the activities revival is now keener than ever before. The student body has started something; it must carry it thru at all costs. Activities now must be backed financially by at least 800 students signing for the tax.

A vigorous campaign for more tax subscribers will be begun today by the Student Council. Its failure will mean without a doubt the failure of the present revival of activities.
Mr. Student-at-large must do his share. He must see that all students, including himself, sign for the tax.

The non-taxer is like an alien, living and drudging in a country for what he can get out of it, never repelling, and going back to his land of the World unenlightened except for his sordid store of knowledge.

Join the auto "rooting" parade to Gettysburg tomorrow. Altho "gas" is high, the pleasure of the trip and game will be worth it.

The Players, formerly the Dramatic Society, are starting their second year. After "Disraeli" of last year, the announcement that several performances in Washington theaters are contemplated can be greeted only with keen anticipation.

We suppose that some of our contributors to the Greek column think that the smaller the piece of paper
the more chance of seeing the note in print. And we won't say anything about names written like a wavy line.

The autos got so congested about the door of the A. & S. Building the other night, that the police had to move them.

Activities benefit the University as much as the student. The University is doing its share.

G. W. MEN SERVING IN D. C. GUARD ON BORDER

24 Students and Alumni in Troop A—
Many in Third Infantry

With the units of the District National Guard now at different points along the Mexican border there are many George Washington University students and graduates.

In Troop A, composed of college men, 24 out of the eighty or ninety of the troop are G. W. men. Scattered thru the Third Infantry more may be found.

According to a list compiled by P.
H. Cathcart, '18, a member of Troop
A, the following George Washington
students or alumni are now serving in Troop A, N. G. D. C., at San Antonio, Texas: First Lieut. B. R.
Rhees, M. D. '09; Second Lieut. Landon Moore, Law, '03; Corporal H. H.
Semmes, Law, '16; Corporal A. W.
Thompson, Law, '15; from Columbian
College, P. H. Cathcart, '18; H. A.
Newman, '19; D. E. Clark, '19; E. S.
Pou, '18; T. F. Baughman, A. J. Houffman, V. C. Olmstead, A. D. Garman;
from Law School, R. L. Hunter, '16;
H. L. Brown, '17; L. W. Glaze, '17;
R. C. Watson, '17; R. M. Cathcart, '17;
C. W. Jacobson, '18; J. R. Wilson, Jr.,
'04; J. L. Brooks, C. F. Miller, M. S.
'14, and M. R. Colbert, Arch. Among those who were discharged while at Camp Ordway were H. P. Middleton,
Eng. '14, and G. J. Schladt, Eng. '16.

In the infantry, Prof. Archibald
King of the Law School is a sergeant in the machine gun company, J. Ralph Fehr, graduate in engineering and law, is second lieutenant and ordnance officer, Capt. H. J. Bryson is a Medical School graduate, W. R.
Johnson, Company L, attended the Law School, Lieut. Schmidt, Companv
D is a graduate, Sergt. John L. Tunstall was in Columbia College last year, and it is probable that many more have been connected with the University.

Considering that the Coast Artillery Company, not now mustered in, is composed exclusively of students and alumni, the University is well represented in the military forces of the District of Columbia.

AUTOISTS, LOOK OUT

Don't Park in Front of Residences or Police Will Get You

Auto-driving student or professor,
beware. While attending classes, don't leave your automobile parked on G street in front of a residence. If you do, you may be called up before the judge by a bluecoat.

"It is unlawful (see article 12 of section XII of traffic regulations) to park in front of a residence when someone else wants to," explained the policeman the other evening as he referred autoists to the excellent parking space around the corner.

The police have requested G. W.
U. autoists to obey the law cheerfully; but if the autoists don't, The Hatchet may have to get a police reporter.

MISS STEWART ELECTED

At a meeting of the Women's University Club on Monday, Miss Lettie Stewart was elected vice-president of the club. She fills the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Hester Munger, who is to study music at Peabody Institute in Baltimore.

CO-ED ATHLETES TO PLAY TWICE A WEEK THIS YEAR

Mix-up Causes Election Postponement—Freshmen Didn't Know Who Was Who

A much more extensive program
than ever before is to be carried out this year in girls' basketball. Instead of merely one practice day a week, there will be at least two days, thus giving the class teams sufficient time for practice. Last year there was much dissatisfaction because the first team had practically the entire use of the gymnasium.

A meeting was held Friday of all candidates to elect a manager and an assistant manager. It proved impractical, however, to hold the election this soon since the freshmen who took part in the election have had no chance to become even acquainted with the office seekers. It was decided to hold such an election after at least four or five practice games have been held and after those whose interest in the sport is only temporary have dropped out.

Miss Eva Baker is expected to coach the team again this year.

Cherry Tree Staff Wants All Pictures
Taken At Once

The success of The Cherry Tree is largely measured by the way in which it is truly representative of the University as a whole. Will the student body be completely represented? Have you had your picture taken? If not, you are not doing your part toward making the yearbook a success.

The staff has placed the price of individual pictures within the financial reach of all. Ten cents insures your being represented.

This decidedly "bargain" price is due to the fact that the staff has agreed to have all pictures taken before Monday. If the University is anxious to secure a better book than ever before, and to aid student activities, let every faculty member and student see that he appears at Harris & Ewing's, 1311 F street northwest, and has a sitting at once.

STUDENTS NOW "CUBS"

Journalists are taking assignments on
The Herald

Journalism students of this University are getting experience in news-gathering and news writing with one of the big dailies of Washington—The Washington Herald.

Once a week each student who wishes reports to Ralph Webster Benton, A. B. '15, assistant city editor of The Herald, for a regular assignment.
Then the "cub" goes out and does
what he can.

The girls of the class, who outnumber
the men are taking assignments
as well as the men. This is unusual on a Washington paper, and threatened to disrupt the Herald office for a time.

The students take their assignments
either at 2 o'clock in the afternoon or at eight o'clock in the evening, and those who work in the evening get the atmosphere and training of work on a metropolitan daily.

ENOSINIANS EAT ICE CREAM

Free ice cream and cake and speeches were the attractions at the opening meeting of the Erosinian Society Monday night.

Prof. DeWitt Croissant explained the importance of a knowledge of salesmanship in all lines of work.

"Intercollegiate Debating" was the subject of a talk by W. W. Beasley, while Elmer Kayser told of "Good Old Days." John Evans read a paper on journalism. William Gilligan presided.

Miss Marjorie Barnes, A. B. '16, is teaching one of the upper grades in the public school at Gaithersburg.

V. M. A. ELECTS OFFICERS.

At the initial meeting of the Veterinary Medical Association held Saturday evening the following were elected officers: Dr. John Lockwood, honorary president; Dr. Tunis Hicks, honorary vice-president; Dr. J. P.
Turner, honorary secretary; Walter
C. Pulsifer, '17, president; Burnett C.
Johnson, '18, vice-president; Willard

The George Washington University
Republican Club was organized in the Law Building Tuesday night.

Norman T. Whitaker led a brief discussion of the aim and purpose of the club; these officers were elected:
President, O. A. Johansson; vice-president, Daniel Waters; secretary and treasurer, W. F. Stickle.

A mass meeting of all interested Republicans will be held at the same place tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

BAR ADVERTISING ON BOARDS

Commercial advertising will be barred from the bulletin boards of the University, except that of rooms,
books for sale, and tutoring, President Stockton upon recommendation of Dean Fraser has decided.

cial student must be in the University a year before playing were adopted.

Recommendations regarding a debating coach, advancing money for athletics and allotting the activities
fund were made to the Board of Trustees.

ATHLETIC COMMITTEE MEETS

The faculty subcommittee on athletics met Tuesday night. Several student managers were also present and the athletic situation was discussed.

It was decided that an athletic publicity man was needed, and Howard Scott was appointed.

The appointment of George A. Daldy as basketball manager was confirmed and he was directed to arrange a schedule.

Tentative plans for an indoor track meet were discussed, but prospects for basketball and track depend largely on the outcome of the Student Council tax campaign.

Alumni Notes

Dr. Frank Baker, who has just resigned from the superintendency of the National Zoological Park, which he held for 26 years, is a graduate of the Medical School. He is a prominent scientist and a professor in Georgetown University.

Dr. Arthur L. Hunt, the District physician who died on Saturday of infantile paralysis was a graduate of the Medical School in 1905. He had been aiding the Health Department in fighting the plague, and fell a victim. He was thirty-nine years old and an expert on anesthetics.

Miss Margaret Knowles, Teachers College '16, is teaching French in the high school at Portsmouth, Va.

Miss Anna McKnight, '16, teacher in charge of the demonstration school last year, is now in graded school work in Charlottesville, Va.

Miss Julia Ruff, '16, is with the Bureau of Applied Economics, a private statistical organization in Washington.

Carl O. Spamer, A. B. and A. M. '16, received during the summer a consular appointment to Switzerland.

George W. Hodgkins, A. B. '15, A. M. '16, is head master of the Briarley Hall Military Academy, at Poolesville, Md.

TRACK MEN REPORT

No Formal Fall Training But Several Men Will Work Out

A line on track material was obtained at a meeting called by Manager William S. James for Wednesday night. The twenty men who reported were told of track pans.

Altho there will be no formal fall training, individual training will be indulged in by several members of the squad, with dressing quarters in 2025 G street, and using the ellipse track.

Indoor work will begin about the middle of December at the Y. M. C. A. Manager James has an extensive program mapped out, but all depends on the success of the tax campaign.

But It Was Indoors and No Mere Men Were Allowed

The Woman's University Club gave a mock track meet for girls only, Wednesday evening, in the A. & S. Hall.

The girls divided into groups representing four colleges, each of which entered contestants in the various events. The spirit of competition was keen. Most loyal support was given the athletes by the cheering and singing "rooters," and much enthusiasm was aroused over the results of the standing broad grin, the 20-inch dash and the hobble races. The winning team was presented with a handsome trophy, a tin loving cup.

Vivid pink lemonade was served at the Poison booth and roasted peanuts were peddled.

Miss Louise Lowber acted as track manager. The other "officials" were Miss Inez Ryan, scorer; Miss Elizabeth Richardson, time keeper; Miss Lettie Stewart and Miss Elizabeth Paull, judges; Miss Loyzelle Callihan, peanut vender; and Miss Emma Reh, dispenser of poison.

MEDICALS ELECT

The Sophomore Medics yesterday afternoon elected James A. Smart, president; Mrs. Gail F. Moxson, vice-president; M. I. Berman, secretary; Thomas Crisp, treasurer; H. D. Shapiro, athletic representative.

CHEERS AND SPEECHES AT BOOSTER MEETING

Practice Yells and Promise to Support Football Team

The old fighting football spirit of George Washington University sprang into new life at a Booster Meeting held Monday night in the Medical Building. The hearty cheering and the aggressive tone of the speeches showed that the students present were fully determined to support the new football team.

After Herbert P. Ramsey had led a number of cheers, David A. Baer, alumni manager of athletics, told of successful football in the past, saying that there was a splendid chance for another winning team this year. He ended with an earnest appeal for more men on the football squad and a loyal student body behind the team.

Rhesa M. Norris, chairman of the Student Council, then took charge of the meeting and spoke of the necessity for more signers for the voluntary tax.

Donald McKnew, manager of the football team, gave a spirited talk on what the football team had a right to expect from the student body.

"On October 21 we have our first home game, with Western Maryland," he said. "Unless the students of this University, who have promised us their help, have a big delegation on the bleachers, they will be four-flushing."

The arrival of a dozen loyal girls at the meeting caused a burst of cheers. Miss Theodosia Seibold, speaking for the girls, said the co-eds backed activities and incidentally had basketball and tennis of their own.

WANTS HATCHET ON BORDER

G. W. U. Cavalryman Writes From San Antonio

Troop A. Cavalry, D. C. N. G., Fort Sam Houston, Texas, October 8.—I am sending you my check for a dollar for which enter my subscription to The Hatchet.

Even though I am unable to return to college this fall I want to keep in touch with the University life and the best way to do that is undoubtedly thru The Hatchet.

The trip from Washington to San Antonio was of great interest to me and the life here in a camp of about twenty thousand men near a live city like "San Antonio" promises to be very interesting for a while at least. I hope to be able to get back to Washington in time to take some work in college this year.

COLUMBIANS ELECT OFFICERS

A lively discussion of "Resolved, That the Swiss Military System Should Be Adopted by the United States" and election of officers was held at the first meeting of the Columbian Debating Society in the Law School Friday night.

L. E. Pendell was unanimously elected president, and the other officers chosen were H. S. Taylor, vice-president; Bates M. Stovall, secretary; Gerald V. Weikert, treasurer; Max Rhoads, press representative; L. E. McArthur, member of the executive committee; P. B. Morehouse and G. L. Hall, associate members. P. B. Morehouse acted as critic.

WANT A JOB?

Do you want to teach in the high school of Alexandria, Va.? You can have the chance if you are a man. Men teachers in the sciences and in mathematics and Latin are wanted, but the school there has enough women. See Dean Hodgkins.

A mechanical engineer who can accept a temporary position in New York at $100 and expenses should also see Dean Hodgkins.

University Calendar

"Advances in Chemistry" will be the subject of Dean Charles E. Munroe's annual talk at the joint alumni and student Chemical Society meeting Wednesday night in chemistry hall, Medical Building.

On to Gettysburg with the auto rooting parade tomorrow. All automobilists are invited to join the party leaving the A. & S. Building at 9 o'clock.

Musicians with stringed instruments of any sort from harp to swinette are called upon to join the revived Mandolin Club at its first meeting in the A. & S. Hall next Friday night. Mr. Holmes, Arch. '16, will direct.

The orchestra will hold its first rehearsal for the year in the A. & S. Assembly Hall next Friday evening.

VETERINARY COLLEGE.

Dr. Jesse Hayes, '14, former Government meat inspector, has been engaged by Dean Buckingham to teach the Junior class meat inspection.

F. H. Curtice, J. F. Brennan and M. Doyle failed to return to school this year.

E. E. Rhomberger, '19, and C. H. Birmingham, '20, have been pledged to Sigma Nu.

Dr. Andrew J. Sipos, '16, formerly interne at the Veterinary Hospital, is on vacation at his father's farm near Petersburg, Va.

Dr. Hugh Grubb, Dr. Wm. Rippon, and Dr. Floyd Wilcox have been offered positions as veterinary inspectors in the Bureau of Animal Industry.

Junior class officers this year are: President, F. H. Wessell; vice-president, F. R. Lanahan; secretary and treasurer, L. C. Criswell; editor, L. G. Chase.

Lewis Lawych, '17, who is down on the border with the Signal Corps, is expected to return to school next week.

PHARMACY

The Junior class held its first social meeting at the home of H. L. Faulkner, Friday evening. Cards were played, supper was served, and "Bubby" Bowman tickled a few melodious strains from the piano. "Steve" Hughes recited. Wallis Fuhrman was master of ceremonies.

"Steve" Hughes went to Potomac, Md., Sunday to assist in the unveiling of a tablet to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the founding of a church there, and the founding of a grammar school in 1750, by his seventh great-grandfather, Ninian Beall, of Georgetown, D. C.

The Senior Class has elected the following officers: William Frailey, president; Russell Paylor, vice-president; B. W. Johnson, treasurer, secretary and editor; Wm. DeMint, sergeant-at-arms.

H. L. Faulkner, "Nuggy" Nugent and "Owly" Flemer took short trips during the summer.

E. F. Linhos is taking pharmacy with the Juniors. He is a University of Maryland man.

L. M. Poston is apothecary at Soldiers' Home.

Kang Li is devoting his entire time to medicine.

Miss Frances E. Fegan is taking chemistry with the Junior Class and is the only girl in the College.

Lawrence Taylor is now with the Southern Railway and going to business college.

DENTAL SCHOOL

Hyde Cowley, G. T. Owen and M. Q. Cannon represented the Dental School at the St. John's game Saturday.

T. A. Reilly was elected temporary freshman class president at a recent meeting of the class.

TEACHERS COLLEGE

The practice school at the Orphanage opened Monday. The school is in charge of Miss Mary Wheatley. Seniors in Columbian College are invited to take the course in practice teaching, as the number from Teachers College is not sufficient.

Miss Elizabeth Weber, '15, is teaching in the Greensboro College for Women, in Greensboro, N. C. Miss Eddingfield, '15, teaches in the State Normal in the same place.

Miss Nell Stanton has registered in Teachers College this year.

Misses M. L. Kimball and K. Atlee supervisors of elementary drawing in the local schools have entered the regular course for a degree.

Miss Dorothy Kalb and Miss Josephine D. Mason of the class of '16 have returned to take special work.

LAW SCHOOL

A meeting of the Junior Class has been called by President Manning for this evening at 6:30 o'clock in North Hall. Nominations for president and secretary of the class will be in order. The election will take place Monday, at the same hour and place.

The Legal Aid Society has settled down to its regular routine, and each night finds at least two or three clients in the office of the Society, taking advantage of its free legal facilities.

Several members of the football squad have entered the Law School, and are attending their classes regularly. Among these are Hillis and Kern.

MEDICAL SCHOOL

Drs. Roy Fortier, '13, and James Moreno, '15, have received commissions in the Army Medical Corps.

Dr. Joseph D. Stout, former professor of pharmacology, has received an appointment in the Public Health Service.

Dr. Robert Rafter, '15, was a visitor at the Medical School last week.

Messrs. Davis and Gordon, '17, are serving as internes at the Washington Asylum Hospital.

Seventeen men from the Medical School witnessed the victory over St. Johns at Annapolis last Saturday.

The Junior class has elected the following officers for the year: President, R. S. Pendexter; vice-president, C. C. Davis; secretary, T. Cajigas; treasurer, R. C. Ruiz; class editor, J. A. Connor; sergeant-at-arms, H. Schoenfeld.

Students of the Medical School offer their deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil C. Davis, both of the class of '18, who recently suffered the loss of their infant daughter.

ENGINEERING

Hydraulic engineering laboratory equipment as designed by Prof. Doten's last year's class in sanitary engineering will be installed in the mechanical laboratory building. This apparatus, consisting of tanks, weir flumes, and motor centrifugal pump, was designed by Messrs. Bowen, Johanness, Wadhams and Hatfield as a part of their regular class work.
